

Faculty Interaction by Lalit Mohan Patnaik, NASI Senior Scientist

On 25th May 2024, the School of Computing and Informatics organized an enriching faculty interaction program with Prof. Lalit Mohan Patnaik, Adjunct Professor and NASI (National Academy of Sciences India) Senior Scientist. The session provided an excellent opportunity for VFSTR faculty members to engage with him, he addressed various questions and concerns related to research publications.

Prof. Patnaik offered invaluable guidance on strategies for publishing in high-quality journals with high acceptance rates. His insights were well-received, sparking a lively and productive discussion.

The session was attended by over 15 faculty members from the Department of ACSE, who had actively participated and benefited from the interaction. The department extended their gratitude to Prof. Patnaik for his time and expertise, which significantly contributed in enhancing faculty understanding of effective research publication practices.

VFSTR Biotechnology Students Donate Essential Supplies to Local Orphanage

On May 19, 2024, the BTech Biotechnology students from the 2020 batch of VFSTR have shown their commitment to social responsibility and community service by donating essential supplies to a local orphanage. Their generous initiative utilized leftover funds amounting to ₹11,950 from their department fest, VIBA2k22.

Driven by a sense of social responsibility, the students procured and distributed a variety of essential items to support the well-being of the orphanage residents. The donated items included:

1. Food Packets: 30 food packets were provided as part of the lunch meal, ensuring the children had access to nutritious food.

2. Towels: 60 towels were distributed to promote personal hygiene among the children.
3. Biscuits & Ice-Cream: A substantial quantity of biscuits (6 packets, each containing 15 units) and ice-cream (3 full packs) were given as snacks.
4. Toothbrushes: 60 toothbrushes were included in the donation to encourage good dental hygiene.
5. Sanitary Pads: To support the hygiene needs of adolescent girls, 4 packs of sanitary pads (each containing 42 units) were provided.
6. Cooking Oil: A 5-litre oil can was provided for daily cooking needs.

The distribution was conducted with the involvement of the orphanage staff, ensuring that the process was orderly and equitable. The donation had a significant positive impact on the orphanage, contributing to the nutritional and hygiene needs of the children. The food packets and cooking oil helped meet their nutritional requirements, while the towels, toothbrushes, and sanitary pads supported their personal hygiene. The biscuits and ice-cream served as a delightful treat, bringing joy to the children's daily routine.

The orphanage staff expressed their gratitude for the thoughtful donation, which not only addressed the immediate needs of the children but also raised awareness about the importance of hygiene and nutrition. This successful donation drive highlights the positive impact that thoughtful allocation of leftover funds can have on the community.

The BTech Biotechnology batch of 2020-24 at VFSTR hopes to continue such efforts in the future, fostering a culture of giving and support within the college.
