UDBHAV-2K23: NURTURING EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION IN MANAGEMENT”

National level management meet ‘Udbhav-2K23’ was celebrated at VFSTR,. This program was organized under the auspices of Kaizen (Key to Ambitious and Intellectual Zone of Excellence for Novelty), Department of Management Studies.

The inclusion of Mr. S. Sai Sunil, the South Risk Head of Aditya Birla Finance Ltd., as the chief guest adds significant value to the event. As a representative of Aditya Birla Finance Ltd., a prominent financial institution, Mr. Sunil likely brought a wealth of experience and insights to the program. His role as the Risk Head suggests expertise in navigating and managing risk, a critical aspect of financial and business management.

The program commenced with the lighting of the Jyoti, followed by an opening ceremony. Subsequently, Mr. Sai Sunil addressed the audience, highlighting that our country is currently the fastest-growing economy globally. He shared the optimistic projection that in the coming days, our nation is poised to achieve a 5 trillion-dollar economy, solidifying its position as the world’s third-largest economy. Mr. Sunil’s insights provided a positive outlook on the economic trajectory of the country and added a significant dimension to the event.

Dr. DV Ramana Murthy, the Founder Director of Attitude Positive Behavior Management Training Solutions, participated in the program as another chief guest. During his address, he emphasized that every student can attain good employment and high positions in life through skill development that aligns with the ever-changing conditions. Dr. Murthy highlighted the importance of students aspiring to develop skills in networking, collaboration, decision-making, and leadership to succeed in their careers. His insights underscored the significance of adapting to evolving circumstances and acquiring essential skills for personal and professional growth.

B. Akhila, an alumna of Vignan, working as a HR, at Tech Mahindra, attended the program as another chief guest. She expressed the importance of students enhancing their communication skills and capitalizing on the opportunities that come their way. Akhila advised students to focus on effective time management, refrain from comparing themselves to others, and not overly prioritize the consideration of CTC (Cost to Company) at the early stages of their careers. Instead, she suggested concentrating on the quality of work. Additionally, she encouraged students, if feasible, to explore the possibility of venturing into new startups and entrepreneurship. Subsequently, the chief guests who graced the program were honored. Outstanding students who excelled in various competitions held as part of ‘Udbhav-2K23’ were presented with appreciation certificates and mementos.

The program witnessed active participation from deans, heads, and students of the respective departments, contributing to its overall success.

VFSTR Launches App - Academic Course Registration

The Directorate of Academics, Assessment, and Awards (AAA), in collaboration with the Directorate of Technology Development (TD), has developed an APP as a digital platform for students to register their coursework. This app is the first of its kind, totally developed by the in-house technology development team, and now it is available in the Google Play Store as the 'VFSTR Course Registration' APP.

The Honourable Vice Chancellor, Prof. P. Nagabhushan, launched this app on November 4, 2023, and expressed his happiness for developing it, wherein students can provide their options for department electives, open electives, life skills, and minors or honors. Further, the Honourable Vice Chancellor has appreciated the TD team, especially the four final-year CSE students—Mr. Sri Sai Nandalal, Mr. Dileep Vinay Krishna, Mr. Tej Pavan, and Mr. Shivam Kumar—for exclusively working on the development of this app as part of their internship at the Directorate of Technology Development.

Dean AAA has suggested all the students at VFSTR download this app and submit their course preferences under various categories for next semester.
