

University Extension Activity Council (UEAC)

The University Extension Activity Council (UEAC) serves as a vibrant student-led body that complements academic learning by fostering social responsibility, leadership, community engagement, and holistic personality development. The University believes that higher education extends beyond classroom instruction, emphasizing the development of essential life skills such as leadership, teamwork, communication, empathy, and civic responsibility, which are vital for producing socially conscious and professionally competent graduates.

The Council is constituted annually through a transparent and democratic selection process. Student representatives are nominated from various departments and selected by a committee comprising faculty members and student representatives. The Council consists of a President, Vice Presidents, General Secretaries, Leads, Deputy Leads, and members of various functional committees responsible for planning, coordinating, and executing university-level extension and community outreach programmes.

The University Extension Activity Council functions as a student-driven platform that promotes innovation, social commitment, volunteerism, and leadership. It actively encourages students to participate in meaningful extension activities through mentorship from faculty members and institutional guidance.

The Council organizes a wide range of community service initiatives, including visits to orphanages and old-age homes, blood donation camps, disaster relief and rehabilitation activities, environmental awareness programmes, health and hygiene campaigns, and other social outreach initiatives. These activities provide students with opportunities to develop leadership, communication, teamwork, organizational, and problem-solving skills while instilling values of compassion, service, and responsible citizenship.

By bringing together students from diverse disciplines, the Council promotes interdisciplinary collaboration and experiential learning through real-world community engagement. It nurtures socially responsible graduates who contribute meaningfully to sustainable development and nation-building.

Objectives

- To provide students with opportunities for holistic development through extension activities, community service, and leadership roles.
- To promote social responsibility, empathy, and ethical values by engaging students in meaningful community outreach programmes.
- To develop leadership, teamwork, communication, event management, and organizational skills through student-led initiatives.
- To organize university-level and off-campus extension activities that address societal needs and encourage active civic participation.
- To encourage volunteerism through initiatives such as blood donation camps, visits to orphanages and old-age homes, environmental campaigns, disaster relief activities, and public awareness programmes.
- To foster interdisciplinary collaboration and experiential learning by involving students in real-life community engagement projects.
- To strengthen the University's commitment to social impact by creating a culture of service, inclusiveness, and community partnership.
