

Youth Should focus on New Innovations-ICT Mumbai Professor M Lakshmi Kantham

In support with DST-SERB, Department of S&H division of Chemistry has organised a two day National Level Seminar on “Recent Advances in Materials Science for Sustainable Development (RAMSSD_2019) on 31-08-19, the chief guest of the Seminar is ICT Professor M Lakshmikantham. Initially the program started with Jyoti Prajwalanam and later the program was commenced by launching conference Souvenir, while addressing the gathering the chief guest said that students should focus on creating new innovations so that the country shall flourish. The other guest of honour IICT Professor Dr Ashok Kumar Tiwari said that every element of the nature will have inherent power, Thomas Alva Edison made his researches on natural elements and brought the invention of Bulb and suggested to make new inventions by students that will help out the human race to sustain and flourish. Conference Convenor Koya Prabhakar stated that around more than 150 seminar research papers were presented in program. Later the guests were felicitated in a grand way. The program was co attended by BAARC Professor K A Thyaagi, VFSTR Chairman Dr Lavu Rathaiah, Vice Chancellor Dr M Y S Prasad, Rector Dr K Satya Prasad, Dean R&D Dr G Srinivasa Rao, S&H HOD Dr N Srinivasu, and Convenor Dr Koya Prabhakar, respective HOD's, staff & Students.